NEWEST of the AMERICAN CITIZENS

A THORITIES declare that nowhere in the west is there a Chinese settlement of the size and importance of this city, which is so near to San Francisco, so that it is almost as if it were in our midst. Former Minister of China, Wu Ting-fong, on his visit here, made a special visit to the part of the city between Seventh and Ninth on the east side of Broadway, which is almost exclusively occupied by his countrymen and, leaving, declared:

Owes Much to Oakland

"China owes much to Oakland. In this city her people have found a home and a just recognition of which, coupled with the fact that the city is so near to San Francisco, will with the passing years build up her people's individuality and self-respect and give them back their heritage of strength and power."

These remarks, when made by a man who has been in China for many years, are of great value. The Chinese in America are a people who are not only industrious and hardworking, but they are also very intelligent. They are not only good workers, but they are also good citizens. They are not only good workers, but they are also good citizens. They are not only good workers, but they are also good citizens.

Mr. Wu, who is now in Oakland, is a man of great influence. He is a man who has been in China for many years and who has seen the country from the inside. He is a man who has seen the country from the inside. He is a man who has seen the country from the inside.

Evolution Gradual

The Chinese in America are a people who are not only industrious and hardworking, but they are also very intelligent. They are not only good workers, but they are also good citizens. They are not only good workers, but they are also good citizens. They are not only good workers, but they are also good citizens.

Organized Fifty Years

It is the coming of the Chinese to America, which is a story of the development of a people. It is a story of the development of a people. It is a story of the development of a people.

WRITING THREE NOVELS IN A WEEK

Five things are more remarkable than the wide variety of rates at which authors produce their work. One will dash off a long novel in a month of feverish writing; another will count three or four years for a day too long for a single book. A will not write a word in a day, while his rival, B, thinks he has done quite a satisfactory day's work when he has committed 700 or 800 words to paper. And again, C, if he may write in one week books which you can read on the fingers of one hand; in another, the product is a hundred or more substantial volumes.

John Oliver Hobbes, for instance, although he writes at least four novels and a large number of plays, on an average writes a novel in a day. Max Prendergast, who has written a novel in a day, has written a novel in a day. He has written a novel in a day. He has written a novel in a day.

Between breakfast and bed, Moore, it is interesting to record, has a pen with which he has written over 4,000,000 words. In his early days of authorship, H. G. Wells thought nothing of producing 700 words daily. "The Strange Winter" boasts a marvelous day's record of over 11,000 words, and rarely falls below 4,000 words; while George Griffith once reached a day's total of 12,500 words, and claims an average of between 500 and 600—a figure which represents Mr. Crockett's maximum, and is three times as much as Cutcliffe Hynes' average.

But the point for rapidity goes to American authors, some of whom have performed almost incredible feats with the pen. Frederick Dey, for years thought nothing of writing, in a week, six or eight novels. The record of a week's work, at a time was 15,000 words. Mr. Dey had a very formidable rival in Mr. Hart, at the rate of, four a year.

IS IT WRONG TO MIX RELIGION AND BALL?

Criticism of the Minneapolis Minister Who Preached at Sunday's Game

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 11.—Did the Rev. C. L. Morrill violate any sacred laws when he preached to several thousand baseball fans at a professional game between Minneapolis and Kansas City played here yesterday?

This question was asked today by hundreds of a riot Sabbatharians and people who are more or less interested in a rigid observance of the Sabbath day.

There was such a diversity of answers to the question that the Rev. G. L. Morrill was asked to state how he reconciled his sacred calling with his stamp of approval on Sunday baseball games. He said:

"I am not against the law of God or against the law of the land to play baseball, or indulge in any other legitimate sport on Sunday."

"Only on a day in seven is required of man by the law of God in which to rest. Let that day be Sunday. Saturday or any other day of the week, but one-seventh of a week must be set apart as a resting day for man, so as to re-operate his body and mind from strenuous work of the previous six working days."

To attend a baseball game on Sunday is not a sin or in any way violating the Commandments of God, provided a man finds rest there. On the contrary, it encourages men to come out in the sunshine and breathe pure air, which is much better for them than to be buried away in a stuffy little room in a congested district in a city."

People who work in shops and factories six days a week are entitled to some recreation on Sundays, and it would be the worst thing that could happen to the country if the working classes were denied this pleasure by legislation. Certainly no law of God says that man should not do the best thing in his power to care for his body and the best way to care for the body is plenty of outdoor exercise, and what day of the week has a well-earned such recreation but the seventh day or day of rest?"

"Christ always cared for the physical wants of men before He attended to his spiritual welfare, thus showing that men have a body as well as a soul, and take care of it, and you cannot take care of the latter at the expense of the former."

"As far as worshipping in a baseball field on Sunday, it matters little where you worship, if it is in spirit and truth, and a story of the life of Jesus is told, and a story of the life of Jesus is told, and a story of the life of Jesus is told."

"This is a free country and people are entitled to a different light and act differently, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church."

"I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church."

"I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church."

"I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church."

"I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church."

"I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church."

"I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church."

"I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church."

"I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church."

"I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church."

"I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church."

"I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church, and I am not a member of any church."

"HUNGRY SAM" BREAKS UP CHURCH CHICKEN FEAST

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Sept. 11.—"Hungry Sam" Miller, of Briar Creek, who claims he can eat more than any man in the United States, yesterday broke up a chicken and waffle supper at the Strawberry Ridge Methodist Church last night. Tickets were sold for 25 cents, entitling the holder to all he could eat.

Miller ate one portion after another until he had consumed four chickens, twenty-four griddlefuls of waffles, several dishes of potatoes, some bowls of gravy and three loaves of bread, with several side dishes served as appetizers.

Then the waitresses protested that he was consuming all the profits as well as the eatables, and he left, declaring they were turning away a hungry man.

Mr. Miller, who before he died a few years ago, had published over 600 studies, many of which were written at the rate of 100,000 words a week.

Such are some of the slow-goers, who are content to give to the world in a large part of a lifetime what others produce in twelve months. Their records in terms of number are quite pitifully poor compared with that, for instance, of Mrs. L. R. Moore, who has at present written 1,000,000 words in the Library Catalogue, and who, in producing long stories at the rate of, four a year.

BULLDOG ATTACKS GIRL AND SEVERELY BITES HER

YORK, Pa., Sept. 11.—Annie, the 6-year-old daughter of George Moore, 758 East King street, was attacked and bitten about the legs and hip the other evening by a bulldog. The child was passing through the yard near where the dog was chained, when it suddenly sprang upon her.

Its teeth passed through the child's leg below the knee. There are seven or eight places on the child's leg where the flesh was terribly lacerated.

Rival High Priestess Has Her

India

Arvan temple, and other subsidiary departments at Point Loma represent the investment of millions.

Anna Besant has her seat of power at Arvan, India, from where she comes to claim allegiance to the faithful and give eloquent voice to the doctrines of the world's most ancient faith.

Though she is not the most eloquent of her more strongly entrenched rival, she lacks that temperament or personal attraction which has surrounded the American high priestess of theosophy with some of the best minds in the country and placed her at the head of the movement.

With a restricted class Anna Besant maintains sway, but the English woman is lacking in the full call of followers the members of the aligned under the standard of Point Loma.

She has not the perfect organization of her rival, Anna Besant is a charming woman, of culture and intelligence, power, and energy, and in the past, she has been a successful business woman.

DIRECTIONS: Paste this sheet upon a sheet of heavy cardboard; let it dry thoroughly, and cut out pieces around heavy black lines. Join parts together by knotting a piece of string on either side, as in diagram. (A to A, B to B, C to C, D to D and E to E.) Then take two sticks about eight inches long (two pencils will do), cut two pieces of black thread about twenty-four inches long; fasten them at either side of figure's head (1 and 2) and at each end of one stick, as in diagram. Cut two pieces of black thread about six inches long, make them fast at bottom of arm and knee (Nos. 3, 4, 5 and 6), as in diagram. Cut two more pieces of thread about twenty-four inches long, fasten to top of hands (7 and 8), then at either end of other stick, as in diagram.

Hold stick No. 1 in left hand and No. 2 in right hand, let feet of figure touch floor and tilt stick No. 2 up and down in a scissaw manner. With a little practice you will be able to work your marionette in first-class order.

The Smartest Fashions of Well-Dressed Folk

Shopping in Town

MY SWIFT TEST ELEANOR

This last week I have spent much of my time shopping for the two children for they will need many additions to their wardrobes by the time autumn comes round.

I noticed in the streets that the best-dressed women wear gowns of mown-up linen—long hips and pleated skirts. Two lovely ones like this I saw yesterday. One of green linen was cut with high-waisted skirt and panel trimmed with four black buttons. The hip yoke, that reached round to the front panel was of the plain material while the skirt below the yoke was kindly pleated. The waist of the gown was smooth but the square yoke was with embroidered and cut out a little on the thin side. I saw a glimpse of a red net in evidence. Pink buttons upon the plain green skirt and a full skirt string tied up the dress. The left side of the skirt I turned up the left side and trimmed with a long black feather.

The shopper's companion wore a lavender linen with the same long hip line and pleated skirt beneath, only in her case lots of embroidery fluted the front panel on each side. The panel line was unbroken, except that at the top where it was embroidered and cut in points, each trimmed with a button. Her hat was simply trimmed with a huge velvet bow and she carried over her arms a black chiffon scarf, which gave her a distinctly smart look.

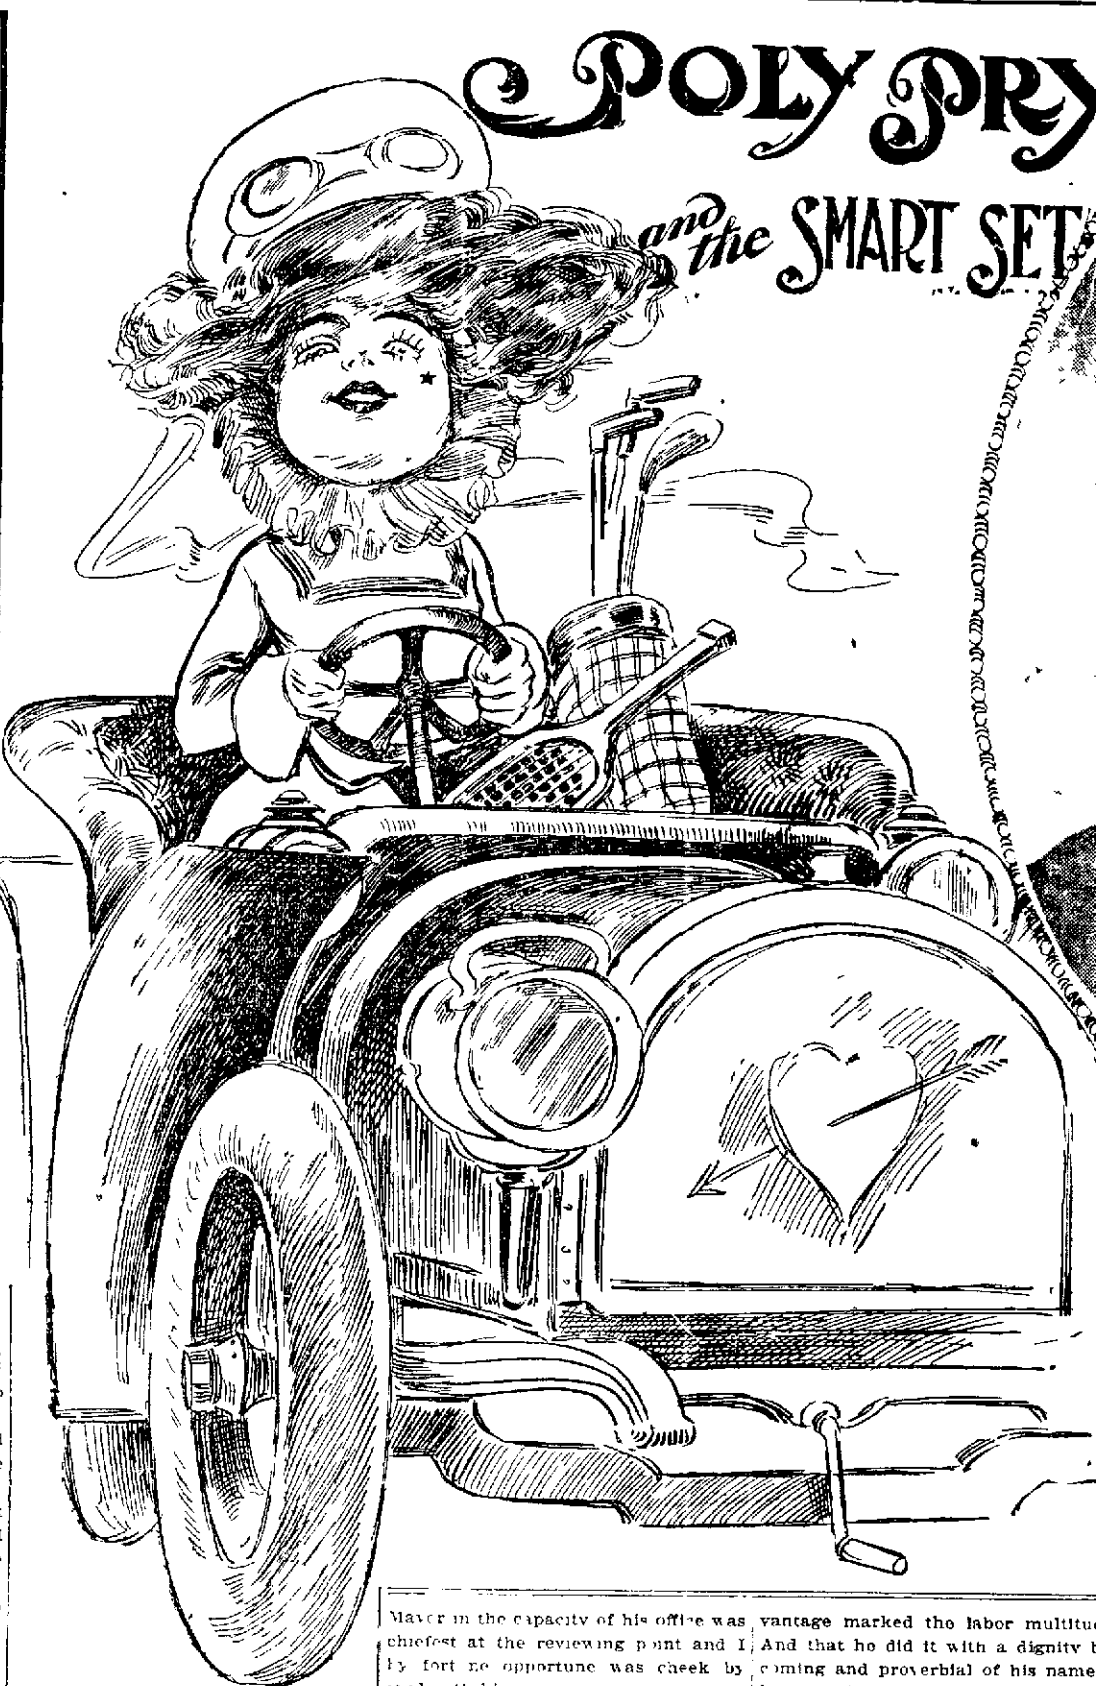

One of the most reasonable features of these long hip gowns seems to be that the length of the hip line may be adapted to each figure thus obtaining the desired effect. If a person be very stout the hip line should be very long, with the pleating only at the foot. If a person be slim the hip yoke should be short and the greater length of the skirt should be placed. Between these two extremes are any number of means, so that the woman of taste need not feel at a loss in designing a gown.

I wore my dark blue linen with panel back and front and embroidered gumpie with a little turnover collar of embroidery all round the edge. This seems to be quite a new touch for the gumpie of dark frocks, and it brightens them up very nicely. My hat, too, is merely trimmed with a huge bow.

Every one in the city seemed to wear linen frocks, and this is most convenient for this time of year. I have full shopping but I think I will buy only the children's clothes now, and my own later. Perhaps you will help me. Always,
MADGE

THE LITTLE JOURNEYS of NIP AND TUCK

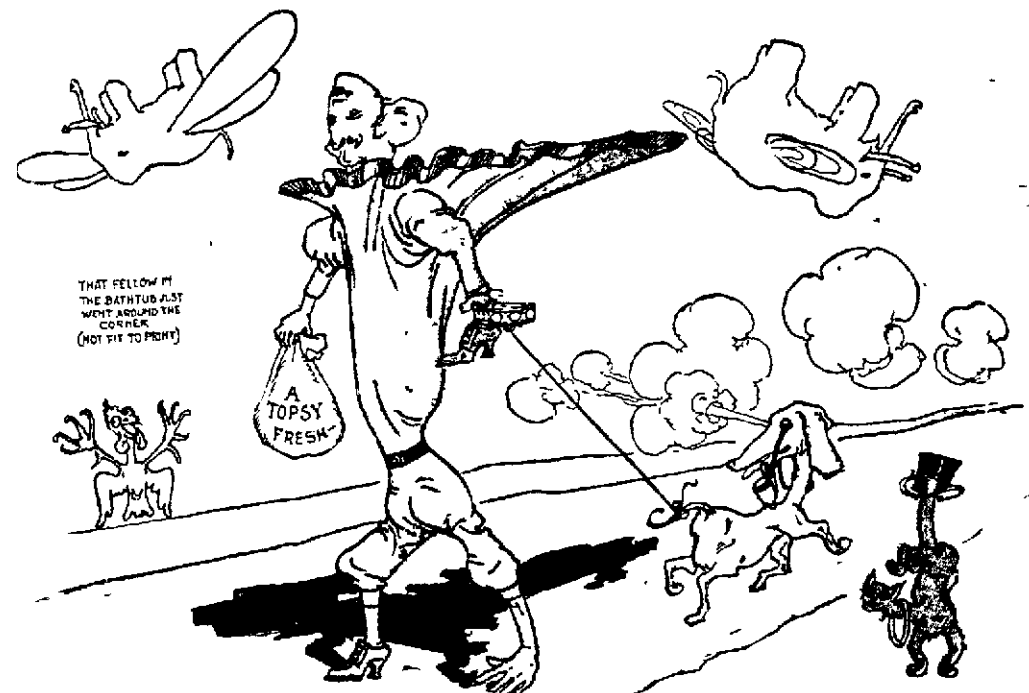

VERSES BY W R BRADFORD
DRAWINGS BY J N O NEILL

(Copyright, 1909, by The North American Co.)

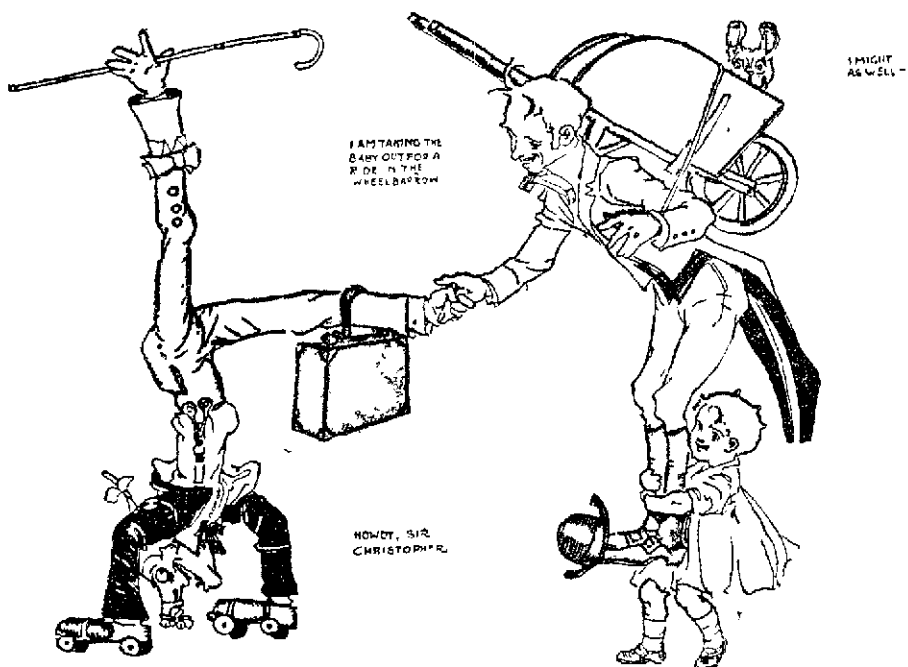

OAKLAND, CAL., SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1909

1. Nip and Tuck one day to topsy-turvy land did go.
Why, that's the place where everything is upside down, you know.
Folks laid upon the blankets, and for covers used the beds.
Whenever they used stockings they would wear them on their heads.

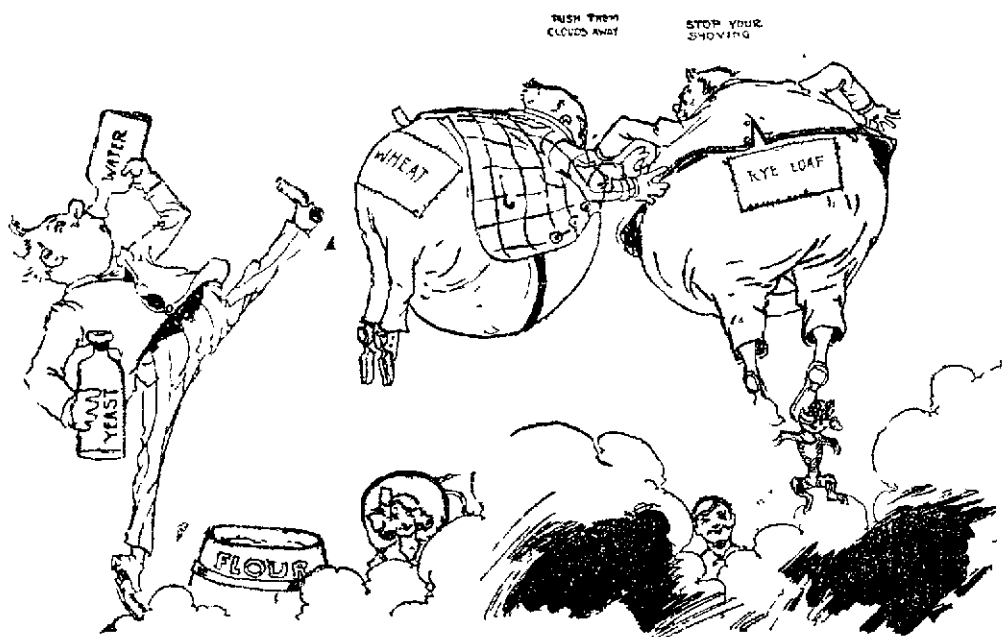

2. The dogs had tails placed where their heads did properly belong.
Where tails should be their heads were placed; nobody knew 'twas wrong.
And elephants in place of birds did twitter in the air.
When folks were dressed for company a bathtub they did wear.

3. Old women walked upon their hands, old men walked on their noses.
Hand organs on the bushes grew in place of pretty roses.
Yes, everything was changed around—doorknobs were laid by chickens.
While horseflies neighed and kicked around and raised the very dickens.

4. Small children dressed grandmothers; yes, and washed and combed them, too.
A boy spanked his old granddad when some naughty thing he'd do.
It was a harum-scarum place—you never saw the like
For toothpicks all the villagers would use a railroad spike

5. When folks made bread they drank the yeast and water first of all
The flour would then ferment and blow them up just like a ball,
And, full of gas, they'd float away just like a toy balloon,
And they'd crack their heels together and then warble out a tune.

6. Oh! ha, ho, hum! and lack-a-day! it was a funny place.
They used face powder on the stove, stove polish on their face;
And when they ate strawberry jam they rubbed it on their backs,
And when they would be comfortable they sat on carpet tacks.

Many Distinguished Financiers to Attend Funeral at Arden Church

ARDEEN, N. Y., Sept. 11.—The vast fortune of Edward H. Harriman, which the great financier preserved so jealously during his life—the untold millions in the accumulation of which he lost his health and to defend which he braved an exhausting voyage across the ocean even when the hand of death was upon him—is still guarded by his foresight and the immense body of his estate will be preserved intact for many years by his command.

"I want the Arden estate completed according to the plans now in hand. I have arranged that all my interests be converted as a unit so long as it will be advantageous to my heirs," said Harriman to one of his managers shortly after his arrival from Europe.

Harriman's eldest son is still in the hospital and is prevented from the reading of the will, which is expected to preserve the estate intact until the young man is old enough to assume the command of the tremendous interests which he will handle.

BOUNTIFUL REQUESTS.

It is known that Harriman's will makes bountiful provision for all his blood kin and also bestows large sums upon charities. But it is believed that all requests for bequests from the estate will be handled by the trustees and that the estate will be managed in the most judicious manner.

DISTINGUISHED MEN.

Among the men who will be present at the funeral of Mr. Harriman, which is expected to be held at the Arden church, are many of the most distinguished financiers of the country. It is expected that the funeral will be one of the most magnificent ever held in this country.

READING OF WILL.

It was at first planned to have the reading of the will of Mr. Harriman at the Arden church, but it has been postponed for several weeks. It is expected that the reading will be held at the Arden church, and that many of the most distinguished financiers of the country will be present.

BOYAN MEYS HEAVILY.

Mr. Harriman's will is expected to be one of the most bountiful ever made. It is believed that the estate will be managed in the most judicious manner, and that the heirs will be provided for in the most ample manner.

It is learned that McKinney had a large number of friends in the city, and that he was very popular. It is believed that he was very successful in his business, and that he was very generous to his friends.

POPE CUTS EXPENSES DOWN.

ROME, Sept. 11.—The Vatican is reported to be passing through a financial crisis. The Pope is cutting expenses by selling the staff as far as possible and by reducing the salaries of the clergy. Some of the old employees are being paid on small pensions. This has caused the Pope's deep regret, but was unavoidable because of the small receipts of the Vatican. The Pope personally is making large sacrifices.

DEVELOPING IN
CONTROVERSYCommander Faces
Grave Accusations

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—It is learned on excellent authority tonight the purport of letters written by Dr. Frederick A. Cook to his wife that will become historical if the text is made public.

It was to these letters that Dr. Cook referred in his announcement, cabled from Copenhagen, that his wife was in possession of indisputable evidence that he had discovered the North Pole.

In one letter, written in the spring of this year, from Etah, the explorer describes the terrible hardships of this journey, starting in February from his winter quarters in a hole in the ground in Ellesmere land to Etah. The distance, about 300 miles, had to be covered without dogs and with insufficient food.

CACHE LOOTED, HE SAYS.

The most striking part of this letter, however, is that which describes the bitter disappointment on arriving at his base near Etah to find that his cache of supplies, which had been sent by his local wife had been moved by Commander Peary.

Dr. Cook also tells of his subsequent loss of the great help rendered him by Harry W. Henson, the young millionaire Arctic hunter of New Haven.

PUTS QUESTION MARK.

After the name Cape Thomas Hubbard, it is said, the Commander had put a big interrogation mark, intimating that Dr. Cook was at an entirely different place from where he professed to be.

In general, it can be said Dr. Cook's letters to his wife have made her believe in his achievement absolutely.

BRIDE LEARNS HUSBAND IS MILLIONAIRE.

Nine Days' Wooing Results in Wedding of Patient and Nurse

Had Asked Spouse to Look for Something to Do After Honeymoon.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Mrs. Albin Young returned to Chicago today after being won by her husband in a nine days' wooing in a hospital. She had guessed that she had won a millionaire's name at the same time. It was as Miss Amanda Schultz that she went to Seattle a month ago to see the expedition and to become head nurse in a hospital there. Her first patient was a man who had been shot by a bear. She cared for him in the woods. He was in the hospital only nine days.

JOSEPH G. WHITE SAYS:

"Before the Erick came on board (the Roosevelt) who said he was R. Francke, who had been traveling with Dr. Cook in the north. The man could hardly walk, but I would like to tell you, however, that the steward on board would not give him a drop of coffee or anything to eat to warm him, so he went on shore to sleep with the Eskimos."

MRS. ROBERT E. PEARY,
Who Has Become a Central Figure in the Controversy Over the North Pole Discovery.

What Is Charged Against
Commander Robt. E. Peary

RUDOLPH E. FRANCKE SAYS:

"I was called from the Erick to Peary in his cabin and I was compelled to hand over the furs to him. He ordered me to open Dr. Cook's trunk, which I was obliged to do. He wanted to keep Dr. Cook's letter to me, but after several demands gave it back to me."

"I had to hand over the furs as the enemy in war has to hand over their arms to the victorious party. Some of the furs were wet and mildewed, but of excellent quality and nearly 200 in number. Peary had no right to take the furs and horns. He is an employee of the Peary Arctic Club and not king of the Eskimos."

JOSEPH G. WHITE SAYS:

"Before the Erick came on board (the Roosevelt) who said he was R. Francke, who had been traveling with Dr. Cook in the north. The man could hardly walk, but I would like to tell you, however, that the steward on board would not give him a drop of coffee or anything to eat to warm him, so he went on shore to sleep with the Eskimos."

MRS. ROBERT E. PEARY SAYS:

"Rudolph Francke wrote me two letters, stating that if I sent $5000 to Dr. Frederick A. Cook, wife of the explorer, there would be no further trouble."

"As to the charge that Mr. Peary would steal furs or anything else belonging to Dr. Cook, it is too absurd to discuss. His reputation is contradicted enough."

"The only Cook letters that I know anything about were written by Mrs. Cook to her husband. At her request my husband carried them north on the Roosevelt."

"It is a pity that my husband's great achievement should be involved in such a bitter controversy."

Congressional Scheme to Defeat
Presidential Pledges May

EVERLY, Miss., Sept. 11.—President Taft this afternoon named the following board of tariff experts to assist him in the execution of the new tariff law:

PROF. HENRY C. EMERY of Yale University, chairman.

JAMES B. REYNOLDS of Massachusetts, at present Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, in charge of the customs division.

ALVIN H. SANDERS of Chicago, at present editor and proprietor of the Breeders' Gazette, third member.

This is the board that was authorized by the Payne tariff bill. It will be known as the Foreign Tariff Board. It is the outgrowth of the demand for a permanent commission and it was the provision under which these experts are now named that the "stand-patters" in Congress believed they had so emasculated that it would be a useless body.

TO HELP DOWNWARD REVISION.

The President believes he has power under the provision to get from the board valuable information, resulting from their investigations to assist in any further revision of the tariff that may be needed along reasonable lines and in a downward direction.

That the President still holds to this view and had it in mind when he appointed the experts this afternoon is indicated by the following statement that was given out at the executive offices coincident with the announcement of the appointments:

"The President and the secretary (meaning Secretary MacVane) have agreed upon the plan that these gentlemen are to constitute the board and are to be given authority to employ such special experts as may be needed in the investigation of the tariff and of the tariff laws."

EXHAUSTIVE INQUIRY PLANNED.

This means that through its experts the board will conduct investigations planned to show the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad. They will go into every phase of the tariff question as indicated by the official statement and report the results of their investigations to the President.

Congress believed that when it provided that two tariff experts should report to the legislative branch it had forestalled any plan that the President may have in view with regard to future revisions of the tariff. But, as indicated by the official statement, the President is inclined to the belief that if such a body shall report to him facts that seem to warrant reductions in certain schedules and those facts are made public, they should be, there will be no alternative for

WILL H. LOW TO WED WIFE OF SCULPTOR.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Will H. Low, the dean of American artists, is to be wedded to Mrs. Mary L. Fairchild MacMonnies, the divorced wife of the sculptor Frederick MacMonnies. The wedding is to take place in Paris, and it is believed that the couple will live in Paris.

ATTEMPT MADE TO WRECK TRAIN.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 11.—An attempt was made today to wreck a heavily laden excursion train on the Rock Island and National tracks near Omaha. A track-walker discovered seventeen rail spikes driven in a switch in such a manner as to derail any train attempting to pass. These were removed only a few minutes before the train arrived carrying hundreds of passengers from the State Fair.

MONTEREY, Cal., Sept. 11.—The body of Miss Alita Ghirardelli, daughter of the millionaire chocolate manufacturer of San Francisco, who was drowned while surf-bathing at Carmel Beach on August 17, was discovered at 4 p. m. today by Mrs. Miller of Monterey within a stone's throw of the spot where the beautiful society girl sank to her death.

Gross Violations of Law

Discovered

Secret Agreement Said to Have Been Made With Holland-
American Line

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The United States government has practically completed its preliminary investigation of gross violation of the Sherman anti-trust act, the Elkins relate law and existing features of the Wilson tariff act, by several transatlantic steamship lines and railroad companies operating within the borders of the United States.

While all definite information is refused at this stage of the investigation by the Department of Justice at Washington and by the United States Attorney for the southern district of New York, it is learned in Washington that several officials of the steamship companies and railroads have been subpoenaed to appear on Wednesday, September 15, before the Federal grand jury that convenes in New York on Tuesday next.

GUARD IDENTITY.

The identity of these officials is being closely guarded by both Washington and New York. Application to the Department of Justice and to the United States Attorney, Henry A. Wood, at New York, for District Attorney John W. Crim for the names of these officials has elicited the information that no public announcement will be given out regarding the case until the grand jury has concluded its labors.

The offenses which Attorney Wood and Mr. Crim, acting in co-operation with the agents of the Interstate Commerce Commission, have been investigating are of the gravest and most sweeping character. The evidence in their possession shows that the offenses have been committed within the last three years. The offenses charged are:

That payment of rebates has been made to the Holland-American Steamship Company, operating a line of trans-Atlantic passenger and freight vessels, by the Hamburg-American, Prussian, and American lines, the purpose of which was to violate the Elkins rebate law as amended. The rebates which the evidence shows to have been given to these companies are the Central of Vermont, the Walpole, the Ontario & Western, the New York Central, the Baltimore & Ohio, the Chesapeake & Ohio, the Erie, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the National City Company. These railroads are declared to have paid rebates to the Holland-American Steamship Company during the years 1907, 1908, and 1909.

CONSPIRACY SAID TO EXIST.

That it exists a conspiracy in restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act and under agreements negotiated between the Holland-American Steamship Company, the Metropolitan Shipping Company, the Metropolitan Steamship Company, the North German Lloyd Steamship Company, the Wilson Line, the Russian & East Asiatic Steamship Company, the Scandinavian-American and Red Star Lines, the purpose of such agreements being to regulate the ocean freight rates to the detriment of shippers.

That the Holland-American Steamship Company has violated the law by wrong classification of shipments and by unlawful certification of weights of shipments in violation of the act to regulate commerce, and with intent to defraud the Government.

Slides on Haystack; Strikes on Fork.

HAYWARD, Sept. 11.—Eddie Quillo, a farm hand employed on the Boyd ranch, was perhaps fatally injured by a fall from a haystack this morning. Quillo was on a top of a stack and slid to the ground, striking on his back on a large steel fork. His spinal column was broken and the physicians state that he was injured internally.

Many Buckeye Boodlers Fall Under Grand Jury Bar.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 11.—Two and county officers and one or two contractors, seventeen in all, were indicted by the September grand jury today on the general charge of grafting. The names are withheld.

Oelrichs Kiss=All's Well

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 11.—Mrs. Herman Oelrichs and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles May Oelrichs, have kissed and made up after their little fuss for the past two years, resulting, according to reports, from the misunderstanding over the will of the late Herman Oelrichs.

It was at a dinner party a few nights ago that Mrs. and Mrs. Oelrichs planned to bring the two women together and they had arranged their plans so cleverly that before either knew what was what, they were clasping each other affectionately. The two are again the strongest of friends and the cottage settlement is happy over the result, which Mr. and Mrs. Harriman brought about.

Now Mrs. Oelrichs is sure to do something nice for her niece, Miss Blanche Oelrichs, who will wed Leonard M. Thomas of Philadelphia next winter.

Oelrichs Kiss=All's Well

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 11.—Mrs. Herman Oelrichs and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles May Oelrichs, have kissed and made up after their little fuss for the past two years, resulting, according to reports, from the misunderstanding over the will of the late Herman Oelrichs.

It was at a dinner party a few nights ago that Mrs. and Mrs. Oelrichs planned to bring the two women together and they had arranged their plans so cleverly that before either knew what was what, they were clasping each other affectionately. The two are again the strongest of friends and the cottage settlement is happy over the result, which Mr. and Mrs. Harriman brought about.

Now Mrs. Oelrichs is sure to do something nice for her niece, Miss Blanche Oelrichs, who will wed Leonard M. Thomas of Philadelphia next winter.

LOVETT SLATED TO SUCCEED HARRIMAN

ACTUAL CAUSE OF DEATH REMAINS A MYSTERY

ARLEN, Sept. 11.—The Harriman death certificate was filed out by Dr. Lyle and read tonight just before the Town Clerk's office closed at 9 o'clock. According to the details, Mr. Harriman was 65 years of age and 15 days old and lived in Arden, twenty-two years. The certificate continues: "I hereby certify that I attended the deceased from August 4, 1909; that I last saw him alive on September 10, 1909, and that he died on the date stated at 2:35 p. m."

The cause of death is given as pericarditis, aneurism of lungs. In the certificate the word "chief" was inserted before "cause of death" by Dr. Lyle. The certificate is signed by William Gordon Lyle and is attested by William A. Harriman, the dead man's son.

A physician here tonight said that aneurism was an uncommon condition of the blood resulting from disease and pericarditis was a condition of the lungs, resulting from any long continued serious illness, when the lungs fill with water as a result of extreme weakness. The two together, he added, result from various diseases. He added that the certificate was absolutely of no value in explaining the cause of Harriman's death.

And so to the family who have carried out the determination to keep secret from the public the actual cause of death.

A death mask of Harriman was made today.

LOST ART IN COPPER IS RESTORED

Process of Hardening Metal Claimed to Have Been Discovered

SAN JUAN BLACKSMITH ANNOUNCES TRIUMPH

Says Advance of Science Will Be Immensely Aided by Achievement

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—The lost art of hardening copper, a discovery that promises to be as stupendous in its results as any of the remarkable achievements of this century, is claimed to have been restored to the world through forty years of toil over force and in smelters of F. M. McArthur, an aged blacksmith of San Juan. To demonstrate the truth of his claims, knife blades of copper, sharpened so that they will shave, and chisels that cut the hardest of woods are shown by Mr. McArthur, who lives at No. 1806 O'Farrell street, who shares with McArthur the secret of his process.

In the advance of the science of electricity, the discovery, it is said, will be invaluable. The use of copper in electrical machinery, owing to the softness of the metal, has necessitated the use of alloys and decreased the efficiency of inventions, all of which the new discovery, it is said, will reverse. The making of any metal implements, susceptible to rust, will be replaced by copper, which rust does not attack. Samples of the hardened copper have been given to government officials at San Juan to determine if the metal still further hardening by rolling, could not be made available for the armament of battleships and which would clear the bottom of Uncle Sam's big fighting boats of batteries, that will not stick to copper.

OUTSBARTENDER WHEN DENIED DRINK

DR. LELAND NAMED ON OTHER TICKET

Negro Stabs Saloonman Thrice in Neck During Row Over Sale

Good Government League Indorses the Democratic Candidate for Mayor

Victim Has Narrow Escape From Death, But Will Live

Verification deputies are to be sent out at once to secure signatures to the petition which will secure the Good Government League's ticket.

In a brawl growing out of an argument over a drink, John F. Knowland, proprietor of a saloon at the corner of Seventh and Campbell streets, was stabbed three times in the neck by a negro bartender, who was named "K. C. Loman," shortly before midnight last night. The saloonman was rushed to the Receiving Hospital in an unconscious condition and for a time it was feared that the fatal vein had been punctured. His wounds, though, are not fatal, however, and it is probable that he will recover.

Verification deputies are to be sent out at once to secure signatures to the petition which will secure the Good Government League's ticket. In an interview yesterday Frank W. Martin, president of the league, expressed reasons for the action taken in endorsing Leland's candidacy for mayor.

The two men grappled and before any of the bystanders reached his purpose the negro had landed a blow on the saloonman's head. Knowland's head was struck on the side of the head, and he was apparently frightened at what he had done. Loman then ran from the saloon and hid in the back of the building.

Verification deputies are to be sent out at once to secure signatures to the petition which will secure the Good Government League's ticket. In an interview yesterday Frank W. Martin, president of the league, expressed reasons for the action taken in endorsing Leland's candidacy for mayor.

FALL OPENING

DAME FASHION evidently anticipated that this Fall was to see the return of the "good times" which Americans have come to regard as their birthright. So she marshaled her hosts of creative geniuses months ago with the result that conservatism was abandoned and a prodigality of all that is novel, bright and beautiful was given to the world for its adornment and pleasure.

Fully sharing the optimism of the arbiters of style, we gave all our buyers carte blanche to secure anything and everything that Fashion approved of. These broad instructions were most liberally construed, making it possible for us to invite you to see what we believe is the best-selected showing of Fall goods around the bay.

Cafes in San Francisco Seem to Be Doing Remunerative Business

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—Whenever the subject of the San Francisco cafe comes up, the opinion is expressed that the business is doing a remunerative business. The fact is, however, that the cafe business in this city is not doing as well as it once did. Wheeler Said to Have Asked Spreckels a Fee of $400,000 to Fight Case

It was said she refused to recognize them after her marriage. Neighbors say that before the father's death she frequently remembered him in a financial way with the knowledge and consent of her husband and continues to do likewise to this day with the other members of the family. It is said none of them has seen or visited her since her marriage.

Why Wheeler Dropped Out

There has been a lot of speculation as to why Charles S. Wheeler left the case of Gus and Rudolph Speckels just as it was coming to a head in the bitter contest with Adolph and John D. He had fought the fight of the two younger sons against their father and he had succeeded in getting the father's affairs after the fire. So it was taken for granted he would conduct the litigation for the younger sons in this great battle.

May Yohe in Portland

Spending of theatrical people the press reports how that Putnam Bridge Strong, the disgraced son of a prominent New York family, is in Portland with his wife and money debts. Strong's departure with Lady Francis Hope, who was formerly May Yohe, the pride of the Johnnies, and their departure from this city furnished a sensation for two continents about the close of the Spanish American War. Strong was a major in the regular army and was en route to his post of duty in the Philippines at the time of the exposure. His father was Mayor of New York and through the latter's influence the son was allowed to resign in lieu of being court-martialed.

Bradbury's Early Troubles

Milwaukee William L. Bradbury, who is expiating the crime of perjury by a years sentence as a convict in the State Prison, had a sensational first experience in the needle with Amelia Smallman and her husband W. H. M. Smallman. In all that has been printed in the local press recently about this peculiar case in Marin county there has been no mention of the fact that it was in June 1886 that the Smallmans were charged with a serious crime. The case was brought against the Marin county man who at that time was already rich. He had secured the case with the woman for $100 but what he paid his lawyers and detectives made a pretty figure. The Smallmans were afterwards sent to the penitentiary on the testimony of the late John W. Mackay. They had succeeded in getting $7000 by false pretenses from some people by the name of Cooper during they would give to Mackay a check for them.

Mrs. Corey Helps Her People

Much has been said and continues to be said about Mrs. William L. Corey, the former Mahala Graham, the sage and now the wife of the president of the United States. Neighbors of the Graham family in this city, however, are telling a story which does much credit to the heart and impulses of the pretty girl actress, who won the heart and hand of the steel magnate after his first wife was practically forced to get a divorce to maintain her own self respect. Mrs. Corey's father, mother and two sisters, Fred and Irene, in this city at the time of her marriage were having a hard time trying to make a

Maud Durant Is to Marry

Maud Alan Durant is to come to this country next year and during her travels will visit San Francisco her old home, and where she continues to have some very warm friends. This Maud Alan, who has won fame and considerable wealth as a dancer in London and other European cities, is none other than Miss Maud Durant, the sister of Theodore Durant, whose sensational murder of two girls in Emanuel Baptist Church in the Mission back in 1894 caused a world-wide sensation. The interesting story just at present about her is that on her arrival in this country she is to be married. One or two of her friends in this city know about it, for she has written them to that effect. Beyond telling them that her future husband is an American business man, born and raised in the East and whom she met in London a year ago, Miss Durant in her letters has not seen fit to give more details. Those who remember her when she left San Francisco say Miss Durant was a graceful and pretty blonde.

Mint Julips in Ride Test

All of the army and navy officers have finished their ninety mile horseback rides as laid down in the regulations. Probably one of the most interesting of these rides was that of Commander Lucretius Young, now stationed at the Mare Island Navy Yard who is one of the most popular officers in the navy, the hero of the war of the Huron when hardly more than a boy and whose State of Kentucky honored him some years ago by making him an honorary member of the Legislature for life. Young laid out his ride in the Napa valley where he could go by easy stages and at the end of each one partake of a refreshing mint julip, a drink the true Kentuckian cherishes on a hot dusty day. The brave officer managed to enjoy ten mint julips. This means he succeeded in dividing his ride into ten stages, an achievement which his brother officers state speaks wonders for a military genius they did not suspect he possessed. He found the valley hot and dusty and came back in good order, save where dust had settled in one of his eyes and caused a swelling for several days.

Millionaire Paints Trouble

Here is the tale of a pet pig, a setting hen, two children and a pretty picture in water colors. Mrs. K. Armistead, the wife of the Chicago and San Francisco millionaire dealer in California fruit, who has a beautiful summer home in Ross valley, painted the picture. She has had a number of copies struck off and has been giving them to her friends as a memento of an amusing episode on her Ross valley grounds. The other day one of her little boys and a little girl, the child of a neighbor, saw a hen leave its nest. There were a dozen eggs in it when Mrs. Armistead expected to be hatched the next day. Let's throw eggs at piggy," yelled one of the children. And they did so with a vengeance. Piggy looked like some unpopular speaker bombarded with overripe hen fruit when the youngsters got through. The squeal of the pet pig and the gleeful shouts of the children attracted the attention of the household to the yard where the fight was on. When they arrived on the scene the hen was sorrowfully surveying the wreck of her nest and contents and the pig was covered with all sorts and conditions of eggs, just ready for hatching. The children were made to see how unright they had been and on the principle that it is no use crying over spilt milk the tragedy of a Ross valley chicken yard has now been preserved with the artist's brush.

Wallace and the Chinese Mission

I understand the late Judge William L. Wallace, who died several weeks ago, has left some correspondence and manuscript which give his version of why President Cleveland in 1885 did not appoint him to the Chinese mission ship and the reason Justice Stephen Field of the United States Supreme Court then, on very friendly terms with Cleveland, appointed to the place. The failure of Wallace to get the Chinese mission was a bitter disappointment to him. Judge Charles H. Denby of Indiana got the position and he did it successively for twelve years, or until McKinley's first administration. Two years prior to 1884 Justice Field was actively seeking the Democratic presidential nomination and there were circulated in the Southern States copies of a pamphlet telling of the brave deeds of Field and his success and fearlessness as a duelist. I once heard from the lips of Judge Wallace that he knew Field had written this pamphlet about himself and had done so in an effort to try and win delegates from the Southern States to the national convention. Field and his friends always claimed that he had done

It is conceded that the selection of a shoe can make or mar the effect of any costume. Footwear that is in harmony with hat and gown lends that subtle air of distinction to the wearer that stamps her at first glance as a careful dresser. Still, the shoe is usually the last selection made in assembling a complete costume.

Consequently the dealer in footwear must anticipate requirements while creating styles. His lines must be so varied as to furnish a reasonable shoe to harmonize with any costume for any occasion.

Rosentals have accomplished these things through years of progressive experience, and in consequence they are the acknowledged leaders of footwear fashions. We have long since established exclusive connections with the most authoritative manufacturers of footwear, so that Rosenthal's styles are not only faultlessly correct, but also obtainable elsewhere.

We solicit inspection of our new designs for this fall—including a great array of novelties in suede, gun metal calf and patent leathers.

END OF A RED NOSE

New Flesh-Colored Product That Heals and Hides Skin Imperfections. A peculiar feature of position, a new skin discovery, is that it is naturally flesh-colored and contains no grease, so that when used on the face for the complexion for pimples, red nose, or any other imperfections, it is not detected. It can thus be applied in the day time, the natural color of the skin being immediately restored and the actual healing and curing process accomplished in a few days. It can be had of any pharmacist who sells pure drugs. The only drug company makes a specialty of it. Fifty cents' worth will answer either for the troubles mentioned or the curing ordinary case of eczema. Itching stops at once.

Any one who will write to the Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York, can secure, by mail, free of charge, a supply sufficient to cure a small eczema surface or clear a complexion overnight and remove pimples in twenty-four hours.

POLICE TO DON 'CLAW HAMMERS'

Mayor Mott and Chief Wilson to Lead Grand March at Benefit Ball

Just to show a burst of "class" and to demonstrate that a policeman looks as well in a dress suit as a millionaire, the members of the Oakland Police Department will, on the evening of October 12, Discovery Day, when their grand ball is held, wear dress suits instead of the classic blue. The general public, however, will not be compelled to wear a "claw hammer" but will be welcomed on the floor of the pavilion by a corps of policemen, who will have left their clubs behind, and will have for ornament only soft persuasion and courtesy.

Features of the ball, which will be held at the Piedmont Pavilion for the benefit of the Widows' and Orphans' Association follow:

All police officers will appear in full dress instead of uniform.

A band of 25 pieces will lead the preliminary parade.

Dancing will continue all night.

No intoxicating liquors will be sold.

Mayor Frank K. Mott and Chief of Police Wilson will lead the grand march.

BIBLE STUDY GROWS IN THE UNIVERSITIES

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—After having spent the last ten months speaking for the cause of Christianity in European universities, John R. Mott has returned to this country. Mr. Mott, who is the general secretary of the foreign department of the International Y. M. C. A. and general secretary of the World's Student Christian Federation, said:

"Bible study has a greater place today than ever before in many universities. When I was in college we had a Bible class of forty at Cornell. Today there are about eight hundred studying the Bible. Yet they call Cornell a godless institution. Down at Yale there are about one thousand studying the Bible. The state universities in the West do even better. We now have about 70,000 students of the Bible in colleges all connected with our federation. I can remember when we had only 2000."

Talks on Teeth

BY THE REX DENTAL CO. (Incorporated)

Why Not Good Teeth?

If you are going through life with poor teeth or with a makeshift for good teeth in the shape of a partial plate or tortoise-shell bridge work, why don't you reform?

Why do you spoil your looks and health with poor teeth or no teeth? What's the sense in wasting any more time on the "artificial" when we can give you a full set of sound, strong, beautiful, useful teeth, that will be as satisfactory as nature's teeth, and without asking you to fill up your mouth with a big piece of rubber or metal in the shape of a plate?

This is a straight-from-the-shoulder talk and we want answers to the questions if you will favor us.

The Alveolar Method of supplying missing teeth without the use of plates or bridge work, as commonly done, is not a new method, for we have been doing the work for five years and are the largest concern in the world engaged in the dental business.

We are able to refer to thousands of people who will say the Alveolar method is the greatest invention of the age because it saves pain.

One must be healthy who can't cheer his life the way nature intended he should.

We have a right to ask the questions we ask, for we can't keep our growing and opening new offices all over the country unless we can make people think.

And if you don't think, you are not a thinking man. And if you are not a thinking man, you are not a man of the future. And if you are not a man of the future, you are not a man of the present.

ANGIE'S AUTOLOVE

$400 in Prizes and Cash

Directions for Solving Puzzle

In the following puzzle contest the blanks are to be filled in with the names of leading business houses of Oakland. The lines to the correct answers are to be found enclosed in parenthesis following each numbered space. Only one concern of each kind is mentioned.

$400 in Prizes and Cash

ANGIE was a winsome maid who lived in old (1)— (a Twelfth street bakery noted for its fine cakes). Her family had been there for at least a (2)— (Oakland's largest electrical and fixture house, on Broadway), and were known to be people of quality. Angie's (3)— (a prominent real estate promoter and broker, who is agent for the Fruitvale Heights tract) blue eyes and her brown hair were quite sufficient to enthrall the swains, even if her gowns had not always been strictly in style and most becoming. She was especially fond of wearing (4)— (tailors on Washington street).

ANGIE'S fond papa was afraid to give her too much (5)— (Oakland's leading candy store), as he foresaw that some bolt of Cupid's would (6)— (the line of bicycles handled by J. T. Chick) her heart. Con- he kept her under lock and (7)— (the works of a locksmith on Clay street near the S' P. tracks).

HER mother thought poor Angie was not getting a square deal, so one day she slipped to the door and turned her loose. "Dear child," she said, "here is a ticket to Rome. You shall see the (8)— (Oakland's best cafe), and also go to Venice and see (9)— (Oakland's leading hotel). Don't return without a husband."

OW, Angie was not very wise nor traveled, but for some reason she felt absolute security as soon as she was out of her father's clutches. She hired an automobile and would have reached the nearest station in safety had their machine not broken down. "Woe is me!" wept Angie, "what is it?"

ONLY a broken (10)— (a local wine merchant who makes (11)— (sberger wines), said the chauffeur. "Stay here while I go on to the next town and get some one to help us."

S luck would have it, the machine had broken down in a dense wood, and Angie was afraid of the dark. She was terrified lest a bear or a lion would come out of the blackness and devour her.

UST as it began to (11)— (oldest dyeing and cleaning works on the coast; main plant in Oakland) and the wind was so cold and disagreeable that poor Angie felt like an iceberg, she saw two lights in the distance which shone like (12)— (largest storage company in the world).

LL bet a dollar I'm rescued," breathed Angie, with a sigh of relief. "Good (13)— (a San Pablo millinery store near Sixteenth), she called "won't you save a lady in distress?"

TALL dark man jumped from the car. He was evidently an American. "Tell me your long sad story," he said, and his broad accent showed that he was from (14)— (the name of a State and also of a leading optical company on Broadway).

NGIE wept again. "It was a foolish enterprise," she said. "I left home at sunset with a ticket to (15)— (a large furniture company on a Twelfth street corner near a well known church); no, I mean to Boston. Really, I don't know where it was to. We broke down just after we had crossed the (16)— (first name of the firm name of a Washington street crockery store), and my chauffeur has left.

OU must be hungry," the man said, kindly. YES, I'm starved. I haven't (17)— (a pump and windmill house on Tenth street near Broadway; Monitor agency) since morning."

HE young man went to his car and brought forth a basket containing some fruit cake and a (18)— (a harness and saddlery store on Broadway near the courthouse). "This is all I have," he said; "take it."

UCH (19)— (a creamery which prides itself upon sanitary goods and low prices) treatment I never before received," said Angie, smiling up into his face. "What is your name?"

ORGE," he whispered, and he knew that his fate was sealed. Such beauty he had never seen. She was a perfect (20)— (Oakland's leading tent factory, on Eighth street). "Oh, that I had a (21)— (a leading motion picture theater), he thought.

HE storm had ceased and a star shone out. The trees overhead formed an (22)— (a drug store on San Pablo near a leading church), and the only sound was the low hooting of an owl.

OME fly with me," George said, seizing the fairy-like Angie and whirling her off toward his car. "If you say the word we'll start this minute for the (23)— (a rattan company which has its factory in Oakland).

LL right," Angie assented, and then George gave her a (24)— (the first syllable of a popular automobile whose Oakland agents also handle electric vehicles).

HEY jumped into the big machine and were off to find a minister. No wedding (25)— (a popular vaudeville theater of Oakland) had they, and no wedding cake. No rice was thrown at them, and Angie didn't even have a (26)— (the tire handled by Oakland's largest vulcanizer and tire dealers, on Telegraph avenue and Broadway).

HE chauffeur when he returned and found no Angie, gave way to his (27)— (a leading piano and musical instrument house) them, but he did not catch them and they lived happily ever after.

BRINGS 5000 TONS OF MERCHANDISE

Steamer Columbian Arrives From Busy Port of Far Off Salina Cruz

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—Direct from the port of Salina Cruz, at the Pacific end of the Tehuantepec Isthmus, the American-Hawaiian steamer Columbian came into port this morning, seven days and eight hours from the isthmus. Captain Theodore F. Colburn was in command, having resumed duty at Salina Cruz, where Captain Charles M. Nichols left the ship to return to the East coast.

The Columbian brought a cargo of 5000 tons of general merchandise, a great part of which was European freight, transhipped at Tehuantepec from steamers direct from various British, German and French ports. It formed the largest shipment of European freight brought by any American-Hawaiian steamer for many months, and in the opinion of the officers of the harbor, now being done over the Tehuantepec route. At Puerto Mexico, on the Atlantic side of the isthmus, several foreign lines are now sailing regularly, while the American-Hawaiian, the Kosmos, the Johnson & Osterman and other steamships touch at Salina Cruz, at the Pacific end.

Captain Colburn reports that Salina Cruz and Puerto Mexico are hot spots, and that the Columbian is kept hustling night and day. The importance of the route is growing, since it has been shown that European and Eastern cargoes may be more quickly landed here than over the trans-continental route or that by way of Panama.

RANCHMAN HAS TELEPATHY 'BUG'

Gets "Suicide Message" From Wife--Will go to Sanitarium

MODESTO, Cal., Sept. 11.—Before Judge Fulkner and a corps of physicians and attorneys in the Superior Court, where he was being examined to determine his sanity, Eugene Hitchcock, son of a well-known rancher, today gave a demonstration of mental telepathy and declared that he had received a mental flash from his wife in Illinois. Hitchcock appeared perfectly rational under examination today, with the exception of his one hobby, which is telepathy. Hitchcock was asked by the court to give a practical demonstration of the workings of telepathy by communicating with his wife in the East. Calling for a piece of paper the prisoner wrote a message thereon and held it close to his heart. In a minute and a half Hitchcock informed the court that his wife had replied to his message, saying: "If you do not come to me at once I will commit suicide."

Hitchcock stated further that his wife signified that she was being coerced by her relatives, else she would come to him. He related other instances in which he had received mind messages and later they were confirmed by letter.

Hitchcock has been engaged in agricultural newspaper work for the past year, and it is believed that his mind has given way under the strain of overwork. Upon advice of the examining physicians, Dr. Lipp and Whitte, the court ordered him committed to a private sanitarium.

BURNED IN RUSH TO RESCUE MAID

Mrs. Clement Tobin's Trip in Europe Marred by Painful Accident by Fire

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—Six months of European travel does not necessarily mean six months of unhappiness, as one charming young woman of the exclusive set has come to realize. The fire occurred in the Hotel de Ville, where she was staying. She was burned in the face and neck, and the fire caused her to lose her hair. She is now in the hospital, where she is being treated.

BATTLESHIPS ARE EMPIRE'S NEED

Great Navy Under British Banner Wanted in the Pacific

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 11.—Sir Joseph Ward, Premier of New Zealand, who sailed at midnight for New Zealand by way of Australia on the Canadian-Australian liner Bakura, after attending the Colonial Defense Conference in England, in discussing the imperial naval policy before sailing said: "While I am a strong believer in one great navy for the Empire, built with the assistance of its many parts, the time will come before long when a fleet of warships will be needed in the Pacific Ocean, where the future political developments will necessitate a great navy under the British flag to maintain a peace. The first need is in British waters at home, though, owing to the great German activity, and then will come the problem of the Pacific."

boats for Lakes Balgelo and Lomana, both of which are most beautiful. One of the features here which impressed us very much was the fact that almost every householder is also the owner of a boat which he seemed to know how to handle and to enjoy.

We found the same love of water and boating in the cities and villages around the Italian lakes--those placid lakes in the mountains.

Venice is the most interesting and picturesque city that we visited. When we arrived at the station there were of course no omnibuses nor street cars to take us to our hotel. Gondolas served instead and glided along through the water ways on either side of which are buildings the most of which were built in the sixteenth century.

I have seen boats carrying people about the streets in some towns of the country when there was a flood, but Venice they have so to speak a flood at all times of the year and what is more there is no harm done at all the people seem to appreciate their water power.

Thoroughfares. Tamed doves at Venice which have an appetite for wheat and are thrown them make no discrimination between resident and stranger. They will circle round you and brush close to you if you simply make it worth their while. It is a novelty, but one may easily get tired of it. It is much more interesting to throw pieces of bread to seagulls following the ferries between the city and San Francisco.

VIENNESE FESTIVAL
In Vienna just as we arrived there was a grand festival in progress and one of the features was an immense procession in which we saw Emperor Francis Joseph and the royal family in their royal carriages with all their retinue. It was a great deal of a military pomp and display.

At Schottenturm southwest of Vienna we saw the emperor's palace and its garden. In the garden there was a fountain which was said to be the fountain of youth. It was a very old man.

was crowned with streaks of silver and gold. Silhouetted against the white crest we could distinctly see adventurous tourists fastened together with strong ropes and over the direction of hardy mountaineers guides telling us to reach the high point accessible to mountain climbers.

Since in France is a very fine up-to-date city. One finds there lawns and beautiful walks everywhere. At Monte Carlo we saw the Casino and you may imagine what we saw there.

Paris there is enough to be seen to occupy the attention of a man and keep him going constantly. But I shall not forget the performance which we witnessed at the Grand Opera House in this place. The opera was a French one. There were between 500 and 600 people in the stage. I never saw such a number of people in any production on the stage before. There were five musketeers in the orchestra and a flight of steps in the stage must have been fifty feet wide.

There are many of the stages of the most attractive but also many of these were made into so many municipalities. I saw a lot of grounds and the streets of the city at Versailles which are really most wonderful.

LONDON IS DIRTY
We were very much disappointed in London. In point of cleanliness it does not rank with other large cities in Europe. While we found the taxicabs very reasonable and while there was plenty of them the street car and the omnibus system were the poorest I think in any city in the world.

I can attribute these drawbacks in London only to the fact that London is divided into so many municipalities. While we all know that London is a very large city it has a number of subdivisions, one of which is the Strand which has its own government and its own police. This was a matter which I discussed with a number of men whom I met there and all of them agreed with me in the premises.

I am glad that we took the trip to Europe. We have learned a great deal and it has been a great lesson in life. We have learned to appreciate the beauty of the world and the people of the world.

London for instance is supposed to be the leading city in the matter of hotels. But each is sent over here for a taste and is manufactured into a hotel in this country and then shipped to London and sold there.

American shows are to be found in every city of any size in Europe. While Paris is supposed to be the center for women's fashions by a combination we get the six or thereabouts as they appear over just and then we forget it after all. We are not to forget it after all. We are not to forget it after all.

Fer Don Does What He Promises to Do

So Says Yuba City Lady Who Endorses Fer Don and the European Medical Experts in Glowing Terms. Speaks From Experience. One of Many Letters Received at the Oakland Office, 1069 Broadway.

The fame of Fer Don and his skilled corps of experts is widespread. Fer Don has more than made good. Over twelve months ago he arrived in Oakland and surrounded the city by the most modern medical equipment. Today he is still here the seemingly exaggerated statements have been made good. The lame walk the crippled rejoice. He is happy in the possession of new health. Many are and have been cured away from Oakland. These out of many letters received at the office of Fer Don and his methods. One letter follows.

Yuba City, Cal.
Dear Sir:
I beg your pardon for writing these few lines but I want to say that I never paid out money in my life that gave me the satisfaction that this has. I am so much better and I hope I will continue so. I want to take your medicine until the time is up. I have written to one of my brothers in Pennsylvania about you. He has a cancer on one of his eyes and to another party in Washington. You may hear from them soon. I have confidence in you. I hope you have done just what you promised me.
Yours respectfully, home people as also to strangers at hotels at nominal prices as we found them doing in the various cities we visited abroad.

I want to save one word about the American women. Their modesty as a whole stands out in contrast with that of any of the women whom one meets in many parts of the old world and this modesty is appreciated when one considers the tendency to depart from ladylike reserve which is extending with great rapidity among many of the women on the other side.

We were absent from this country for six months. My wife and I enjoyed good health during our absence. While I find that we can take most of the best of the trip, our brothers abroad, yet find America supreme. California to I admired and Oakland to be loved. I truly say that I am glad I am living in Oakland. I am glad that I am in Oakland again.

Oakland's Marvelous Growth and Prosperity Increase

ALAMEDA IS IN A HEALTHY STATE

Holidays Did No Serious Injury to Alameda's Real Estate Interests

ALAMEDA, Sept. 11.—The holidays, occurring in the same week, have had an unfavorable effect upon the real estate market in Alameda. But in spite of the holidays business has been brisk and the transactions for the week appear good in comparison with those of weeks gone by.

In the north end of the city rumors of the construction of a large factory on the market have had a decided stimulating effect, while the advance of work on the rebuilding of the Southern Pacific lines has done much to increase the demand for property and homes in the district surrounding Lincoln Park and topped by the Southern Pacific lines.

While property purchases have not been so numerous as in other weeks, and while long-term leases have been unobtainable during the week, there have been many rentals and the inquiries have been more numerous than in many weeks.

EFFECT OF BOLLEVARDING.

Property owners in the district through which Grand street runs are preparing for the boulevarding of that highway and the result of the project is already being evidenced in the valuations placed on lots facing the thoroughfare. A general increase of about 25 per cent in the values placed upon properties in this district is expected to result from the improvement of the street.

The proposed scheme was favored by George H. Blumhagen, who proposes to acquire the works, the city will build and operate the same. In carrying the project through, it is estimated that the adjacent property will be increased by $100,000 with the completion of the scheme and that a new residence tract will be created.

The plan of the reconstruction of the boulevard is to construct a wide boulevard, taking from the foot of Grand street to the corner of Bayview avenue, and from there to Grand and Bayview streets. The city council has entered fully into the project and already has adopted plans for the improvement.

HOLIDAYS DID NO HARM.

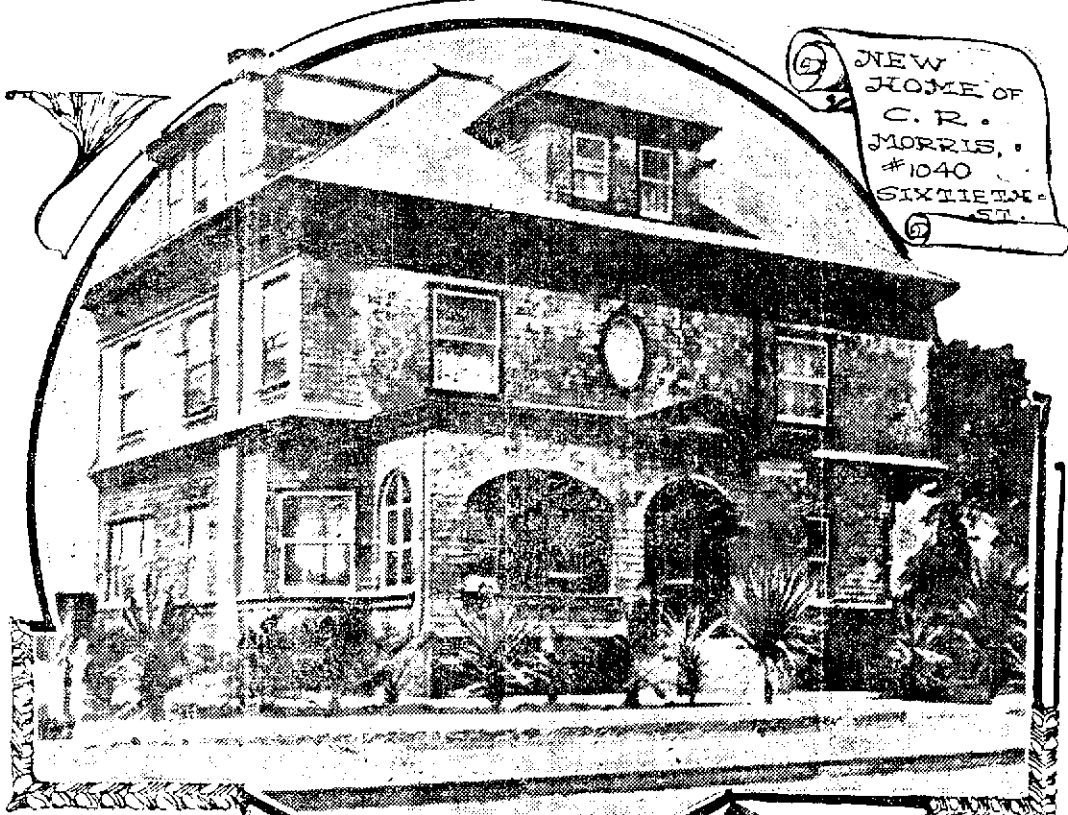

Both Monday and Tuesday, every property owner in Alameda was glad that the holidays came on during the latter days of the week, so that much of the business of the week was done before the holidays. Many visitors were in the city, and the investing business was brisk. The holidays, say the real estate dealers, did not harm Alameda as a home city, it is rather to the benefit and that it steadily will continue to grow in spite of a depression.

CANAL SITES SCHEME ABANDONED.

Two attempts to construct a canal through the city have been abandoned. The first was the project of a canal from the foot of Grand street to the corner of Bayview avenue, and from there to Grand and Bayview streets. The city council has entered fully into the project and already has adopted plans for the improvement.

PROPERTY VALUES INCREASING.

Frank H. H. of the real estate firm of H. H. & Co. says: "The real estate prospects in Alameda are very bright. We have constant offers for rental and purchase of property, and the business is very brisk. The holidays, say the real estate dealers, did not harm Alameda as a home city, it is rather to the benefit and that it steadily will continue to grow in spite of a depression."

we have made quite a few sales of both improved and unimproved property in all parts of the city recently. I think the outlook was never brighter and it will continue to be good for some time to come."

BUILDING PERMITS.

Following are the building permits issued by Building Inspector John Davies for the week:

James, Marilla and Paul Strauch, builder, 21 E. Sixth street, two-story, four-room dwelling at 210 Santa Clara avenue, cost, $2,000.

James, Robert Mott, builder, J. M. Lindholm, store front at 1201 Park street, $120.

George, C. S. Salisbury, builder, H. W. Salisbury, addition to 1200 Park street, cost, $500.

James, Mrs. B. Thompson, builder, Robert A. Jones, repairs to and central heating, cost, $75.

James, H. A. McIntosh, builder, H. J. Smith, two-story, four-room dwelling at 2500 Park avenue, cost, $1,500.

James, W. D. Reeves, builder, same, two-story, four-room dwelling at 1021 California avenue, cost, $2,000.

James, Mrs. Ruth Smith, builder, three one-room additions to 1311 Grand avenue, cost, $250.

GASOLINE MOTORS FOR ELMHURST

Three Transportation Lines Will Soon Reach the New Suburb of Broadmoor

Broadmoor is the only suburb in this part of the state that has been laid out in half-acre plots with the intention of attracting only the better grade of home buyers who prefer a sufficiently large piece of ground to enable them to grow vegetables and conduct in a small way a country home and at the same time enjoy the advantages of city life. The residents are given water, sewers, fire, gas, electric, electric light and telephone service.

The Frank K. Mott Company, agents for the property, are selling many of these half-acre pieces for as low as $1,000 each. A half acre is equal to eight 2,500 foot lots.

Over $200,000 has been spent in street work upon less than one hundred and fifty acres. It is located on the San Leandro road, between Oakland and San Leandro. The electric line now passes the entrance gate every seven minutes, and the street car line runs in twenty minutes. The street car line will be extended to the third service next spring. This tract will have three separate lines direct to Oakland and two separate lines direct to San Francisco.

The Southern Pacific is about ready to start its gasoline motor car service from Emeryville down the main line to Broadmoor. These gasoline motor cars are similar to those that will be used between Point Richmond and Oakland and are superior in many ways to ordinary transportation. This new service will give a train from Emeryville to San Francisco every thirty minutes, with a 34-cent fare, and a single fare to San Francisco of $1.00.

This train service will be a very important addition to the already good transportation service of Broadmoor as it will not only be the result of considerable savings in time but will also enable residents to reach the city in less than ten minutes.

"This new line is in addition to the line which will run through the middle of Broadmoor," says E. B. Bull, manager of the Frank Mott Company. "The other line will probably not be in operation until next spring, although they have already surveyed through the tract and have arranged for a depot site with us. This line will probably be an extension of the branch which already stops at Melrose. There is some talk now of surveying another right of way, which also will be in operation in the near future. It will offer in its approach to the city a new and direct route. There are now approximately thirty houses created in Broadmoor."

NEW BECKWITH APARTMENT BLOCK

One of the Handsomest of the Combination of Store and Apartment Buildings

Last Sunday's TRIBUNE contained a detailed description of the new and handsome Beckwith store and apartment building in course of erection at the corner of Twenty-second street and Telegraph avenue. Today a perspective drawing of the building is presented. It will contain four commodious stories on the ground floor and forty-five rooms in the upper two stories. These have been arranged in three-room apartments, the two main rooms in each of which can at the convenience of the tenant be thrown into one or two separate rooms. The building, which has been designed by Architect William A. Nelson, is being built by the owner, Dr. Beckwith, approximately $25,000.

IS AHEAD OF SAN FRANCISCO

Fifty More Sales of Realty for Building Sites Closed Here in One Week Than in the City Across the Bay

THE past week has contained two holidays and has naturally affected the traffic in real estate as it has every other branch of business. It is usually transacted in six. But the four business days of the past week have been unusually busy ones in all of the real estate offices, which has been amply evidenced by the crowds of inquirers for desirable purchases and rentable property. The fact that the report of the application for building permits filed with the Board of Public Works during the week exceeds $100,000, and that thirty of these applications relate to the building of various classes of new homes, proves that even a holiday week cannot arrest Oakland's progress or prevent its population from increasing at a rate corresponding with that which has been marking its steady growth for over three years past.

The week previous to the one just closed showed convincingly that the activity in the real estate market on this side of the bay is more pronounced than it is in San Francisco, for the records show that during that week there were fifty more real estate transfers recorded here than there were during the same period in San Francisco, and most of the deeds filed with the county recorder here represented the same kind of property as were filed with the county recorder of San Francisco. Most of the deeds filed in both cities were for home sites, which proves that a greater number of people are making permanent homes for themselves on this side of the bay than there are across the bay.

One of the most suggestive changes in Oakland of late is that represented by the establishment of a wholesale business center south of the retail district near the water front. It has invaded the quarter which the Chinese occupied for purposes of refuge after the quake and fire of April, 1906, which drove them out of San Francisco. They shrewdly recognized the special advantages of the location, obtained favorable leases of the property running for a term of three years, which had been in possession of the district for over a quarter of a century; induced the owners of property to bring the streets to grade, macadamize them and lay permanent gutters, curbs and sidewalks, and to erect several blocks of buildings, most of them of a temporary character, in which they could carry on their business. It was a practical demonstration that the most suitable and commerce and interested themselves in an effort to induce the Southern Pacific Company to follow the example of the Western Pacific and locate a distributing freight depot in the same neighborhood on its First-street line.

Wholesale garden produce dealers have taken the initiative by installing themselves in this quarter and while they have been in business here less than two weeks the tremendous advantage to them of the new location is shown in the big volume of business they are doing at a minimum of expense.

One class of business naturally draws others to it, once it is established. A prominent citizen who has been associated with the wholesale grocery trade for over thirty years has become deeply interested in the advantages of the new business district. He pronounces it an ideal location for that class of wholesale trade, its convenience to rail and water transportation and to the retail business district peculiarly adapting it for the distribution of the class of merchandise handled by wholesale grocers. He reports that several of the leading wholesale grocers on both sides of the bay are studying the situation closely with the view of following the example of the wholesale produce merchants who have located there. Several of the buildings which were erected for the use of Chinese were built in such a way as to be well adapted to their uses, as their floors are capable of carrying the heaviest weights and present indications are that these buildings will be leased or purchased by those engaged in the wholesale grocery and kindred forms of trade.

PROPERTY NORTH OF LAKE MERRITT

All of East Oakland Greatly Benefited by the Improvements Made by the City

"During the past week we can report the sale of several lots in Piedmont Terrace by the Lake," reports A. J. Snyder, upon which buildings will be erected very soon.

"There is a constant increase in the large number of people who are building homes in the beautiful district on the northern boundaries of Lake Merritt, which is rapidly building up with some of the finest homes on the coast, and there is not a more scenic or enjoyable drive around the bay than to follow the boulevard around the lake into the Piedmont hills, studded with its handsome homes, as it lends a most beautiful perspective to the silvery waters of the lake."

The extensive improvements which are being made in our city by our present administration is the greatest evidence of our progress and advancement ever shown, and "I will say," added Mr. Snyder, "that all of East Oakland will experience its greatest boom by the conversion of its entrance across Twelfth street from the mud sloughs which have always infected it, to a beautiful park of flowers. We also have in negotiation the sale of two large pieces of downtown business property, which will be closed soon."

Nearly every one feels he needs about the patience he has.

Although a Double Holiday Week, New Building Improvements in Oakland Make a Good Showing
